2 Assembly Bills Set For Passage

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House paused long enough Wednesday night in its rush to approve emergency relief and education appropriations for participation on fiscal responsibility.

After an hour-long exchange of comments the House placed in position for final passage at a post-midnight session two bills transferring $50 million from two state retirement funds to the relief and education programs.

The $50 million, along with an

SEATO Fails To Support U.S. Charges

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The SEATO Council failed Wednesday to lend support to U. S. charges that substantial numbers of foreign Communist soldiers are aiding rebels in Laos.

This is the key factor in deciding whether Western troops should be sent by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to aid the pro-Western government of Laos.

A statement issued by SEATO ambassadors was silent on U. S. and Laotian charges that soldiers from Communist North Viet Nam are backing the fight against the royal Laotian army.

The SEATO community did single out reports that the Soviet Union has been airlifting war material to the rebels. This has been admitted even by the Russians, who claim they are supplying forces of the legal government of Laos. These forces, in Soviet eyes, are leftist troops driven from the capital of Vientiane last month by pro-Western forces now holding power in the city under Premier Prince Boum Oum.

The United States, which backs Boum Oum, issued a statement in Washington Tuesday charging that "substantial numbers of North Vietnamese Communist personnel" have been parachuted into Laos recently.

Barry Fitzgerald, Famous Irish Actor, 72, Dies In Dublin

DUBLIN (AP)—Barry Fitzgerald, the Irish actor whose role as a priest in "Going My Way" won him an Oscar, died Wednesday at 72.

His death, of unannounced causes, came in a nursing home in Dublin, his native city. He had been under medical care since he underwent a brain operation in 1957.

Fitzgerald turned to acting at the age of 41, when he quit a 20-year career as a civil servant in Dublin. He made his first hit in London with the Abbey Players' presentation of Sean O'Casey's "The Silver Tassie."

He started his film success in 1937 when John Ford summoned him to Hollywood for a part in O'Casey's "The Plough and the Stars." His co-starring role with Bing Crosby in "Going My Way" won him the 1944 award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as the best supporting player of the year.

Many Hits

His many other hits included "Dawn Patrol," "The Long Voyage Home," "How Green Was My Valley," "None but the Lonely Heart," "Naked City" and "The

U.S. Begins Exit From Cuba

Clashes Mark UN Hearings

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Demonstrators for and against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro clashed outside U. N. headquarters Wednesday as the United States and Cuba traded bitter charges in the Security Council.

At least one man was hurt and several others were spattered with eggs and tomatoes before police restored order between two groups fighting outside the public entrance. Inside the Security Council chamber, the debate was twice disrupted by hecklers.

The United States told the 11-nation council Castro was turning Cuba into a springboard for Communist subversion of the Western Hemisphere. Cuba said the United States was about to attack her.

Seven men and a woman were expelled from U. N. headquarters for yelling, "Viva Castro," from the public gallery of the council chamber.

Throw Eggs, Tomatoes

As they reached the street, about as many anti-Castro pickets threw eggs and tomatoes at them from the other side.

The anti-Castro group charged across the street, police swung clubs to keep them back and one man was knocked down, bleeding from the forehead. The man said he was Felix Garcia, a leader of the anti-Castro pickets. Police took him away. They separated the two groups and herded the pro-Castro demonstrators toward a bus stop.

The Castro sympathizers began shouting, "Viva Castro," in the afternoon after U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth charged that Castro was leading Cuba into the Soviet bloc and turning it into a Communist subversion center.

Six men and women cried, "Murderer, liar, Communist," in the morning as Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told the council the United States was planning to attack Cuba.

Oust Groups

U. N. guards ousted both groups from U. N. headquarters.

Wadsworth spoke twice. At the morning session, he said Castro's government drove the United States to break off diplomatic relations with Cuba Tuesday night through a "strategy of harassment."

"I don't think it's fair that these funds are deprived of this money for any length of time," said Agnew.

Rep. Stephen McCann, D-Green, majority leader, replied that, on the contrary, the Lawrence Administration has shown "excellent fiscal responsibility."

He declared that the legislature itself must shoulder some of the blame for the failure to provide enough money in 1959 for the relief program until May 31, 1961.

He said that some $17 millions were cut by the legislature from the administration's request for the relief program.

McCann said budget requests for relief were based on a belief that the number of persons receiving public assistance in the current biennium would average 312,000.

B47 Jet Bomber Crashes While On Takeoff

PEASE AIR FORCE BASE, N. H. (AP) — Four crew members were killed Wednesday night when a B47 jet bomber crashed and burned at takeoff at Pease Air Force Base.

The plane crashed about 500 yards from the north end of the runway and exploded on impact.

The wreckage burst into flame. Identities of the dead were not announced immediately.

Fire departments from eight communities aided base fire fighting forces in battling the fierce fuelled fire. Ammunition exploding in the burning wreckage was an added hazard to firefighters.

In the air wing the plan of action is to have one quarter of

Greater Boost In Area's Economy Via Depot Likely

TOBYHANNA — Tobyhanna

Signal Corps Depot added almost $17,000,000 to the area economy last year and prospects are good that the figure will increase in the next 15 months.

The depot's public information officer reported yesterday that 1960 spending included $12,175,000 for payrolls, both military and civilian, and $4,505,000 for local purchases.

At the same time, the Dept. of the Army announced closing of the Decatur, Ill., Signal Corps Depot, which will result in the transfer of 4,000 additional tons of stock to Tobyhanna over the next 15 months.

In addition, there will be some new jobs, although the exact number has yet to be determined.

Wherever specific functions are transferred to Tobyhanna from Decatur, employees affected at Decatur will be offered an opportunity to transfer with the functions.

The local depot said yesterday that if any jobs become available here, they will be advertised in the normal manner—in post offices and through the newspapers.

(According to a telegram received by The Daily Record from U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, the Army estimates that the move will create over 150 new personnel spaces at Tobyhanna,

Other Locations

In addition to Tobyhanna, stocks from Decatur will be transferred to Lexington, Ky.; Sacramento, Calif.; Fort Worth, Texas and Atlanta, Ga.

Closing of the depot—or phasing down to inactive status, to use the Army terminology—is the result of a reduction in the system-wide work load inventory in the signal supply system.

Tobyhanna's mission area, which now extends from Malone to Virginia, is expected to be broadened to include two or three additional states, including Ohio and West Virginia.

The civilian payroll at the depot last year was $10,750,000, or $171,000 higher than 1959 due to pay raises for all employees during the year. As of Jan. 1, there were 2,138 civilians employed here.

Depot spending in the area for equipment and supplies last year was slightly less than in 1959, when purchases totaled $4,531,000.

Items purchased included electrical and electronics equipment, automotive and machine parts, hardware, machinery, shale, gravel, plastic, canvas and office supplies.

About 400 local firms shared the business, about 50 more than a year ago, according to Francis Rotunda, of Mt. Pocono, depot procurement officer.

The ground forces, members of the Fleet Marine Force, are usually alerted at battalion level and can include from one to five battalions. The FMF troops are placed in position to be transported to a place near the camp for loading on transports.

The same plan was in operation when Marines landed at Lebanon several years ago.

Killer Disease

One of the most deceptive diseases that stalk little children today is whooping cough.

Although most adults rank it with measles, mumps and chicken pox — thinking of it as "just another childhood disease" — it is in reality a killer, sly and sneaky.

Pennsylvania's Department of Health says it has killed 22 children in this state in the last three years, just five less than the total polio fatalities of the same period!

Sixteen of these whooping cough deaths occurred in children less than one year old.

It seems to us that Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, state secretary of health, is quite right when he says one of the main reasons for these deaths is the fact that parents treat whooping cough too lightly. They underrate it. They fail to realize it is one of the most serious diseases that can strike infants.

But it does not need to collect so great a toll. Like polio, there is a vaccine to combat it.

Dr. Wilbar, underscoring the danger of whooping cough, made this recent plea to parents:

"All infants and children should be vaccinated against whooping cough. Then, and only then, can we eradicate this disease."

So add whooping cough shots to the protection you plan for your small children. And get them soon.

Just Add Water

We see that a company has come up with "instant" beer, a variety of brew produced by removing the water and carbon dioxide from ordinary beer. What's left is goo, not particularly refreshing, but considerably cheaper to ship than the whole product. The idea is that the goo, after reaching its destination, would be reconstituted at a plant designed for that purpose.

Well, why not? We live in a progressive age that features such marvels as instant coffee, instant pudding, and instant fruit juice. Just add a little water, so the directions go, and you've got a lot more than you appeared to have.

Anyway, the method isn't really new. The Government has been doing the same thing with money for a long, long time.

Tariff Question

Every day, public relations literature crosses my desk, and it does the desks of others, dealing with some industry that regards itself as a being slaughtered. Occasionaly such material also comes from a labor union. But when the men's clothing industry gets excited, the subject takes on a special interest.

The men's clothing industry, both on its employer and labor union sides, has always been what might be called liberal and internationalistic. It is an industry dominated by Jacob Potofsky, president of his union. It is this industry which now concerns itself with the word, survival, as the watch industry,

"But Survival for America concerns more than defense against guided missiles.

To many hard-pressed high-wage American industries, survival depends upon defenses against "guided merchandise" — imports from low-wage countries almost at American domestic and export markets.

"In the men's clothing industry we cannot complain that we have not been warned; the alert has been sounded often, loud and clear."

Then it goes on to say:

Bell Plans Projects

BELL TELEPHONE CO. of Pennsylvania plans construction expenditures of $122,300,000 in 1961, President W. D. Gillen reported yesterday.

According to Budd Van Horn, local manager, Monroe County will share in this outlay in the amount of $370,500 for outside construction, such as extension and replacement of lines, and for additions to central office equipment to accommodate additional subscribers.

The money is earmarked for the following exchanges: Stroudsburg, $276,800; Mount Pocono, $41,800; Cresco, $38,500; Delaware Water Gap, $6,900; and Bushkill, $6,500. Not included in the Monroe County figure is $11,880 planned for the Newfoundland sub-district.

Van Horn said the $370,500 is in addition to the $5,900,000 the company expects to spend in the Stroudsburg-Carbondale-Scranton area for purchases and payrolls in 1961.

This compares with $4,350,000 in wages and $93,400 in purchases, totaling $5,283,400, during the past year.

6th Straight Year
Bell's statewide construction expenditures of $122,300,000 will make 1961 the sixth consecutive year in which company construction expenditures will have exceeded $100 million. During 1960, these expenditures totaled $117,133,000.

The number of Bell telephones in Pennsylvania increased during the year by 161,000, a growth rate of 3.9 per cent which brought the total number of telephones in service in the state to 4,306,000, Gillen said.

The company's payroll in Pennsylvania during 1960 amounted to $179 million. Purchases of materials and supplies from some 15,000 Pennsylvania firms totalled $46 million by the Bell Company and an additional $70 million by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing unit of the Bell System.

Monroe Representative Names Rayburn Speaker

Special to The Daily Record

WASHINGTON—Honors are still bestowed upon Rep. Francis E. Walter, Monroe County congressional representative, as he started his 15th term as a member of House of Representatives.

The Easton Democrat was selected by his colleagues to nominate Sam Rayburn as speaker of the House, a nomination that received a standing ovation from members of both sides of the aisle. On Monday, Democrats immediately seated.

Auto, Coal Truck Collide In Accident On Route 611

A CAR AND tractor-trailer collided two miles north of Stroudsburg on Route 611, near Allen Roth's Restaurant. The tractor-trailer upset and the car ran into a bank. There were no serious injuries.

Police identified the drivers as Mrs. Lorraine Krakowsky, 47, of Stroudsburg Star Route, in a sedan, and James Judge, 40, of Pittston, driver of the trailer.

The only injury was a small laceration of the left wrist to Judge who was treated at the scene of the accident.

Police said Judge was attempting to pass the Krakowsky car at a time the Krakowsky car was making a left turn. The tractor-trailer sideswiped the sedan and ran off the east side of the road, struck a slight embankment and rolled over, spilling 20 tons of coal in the northbound lane.

The Krakowsky vehicle also ran off the same side of the road and hit the embankment.

Damage to the tractor-trailer was a bent frame, entire right side of tractor and trailer, windshield and drive shaft. Police estimated the damage between $2,000 and $2,500.

The Krakowsky sedan had damage to the left rear fender, left front and left rear doors, bumper, grill and headlights. The damage was estimated at $350 by police.

Trooper Stanley Cimichowski, State Police, Stroudsburg barracks, is conducting the investigation.

Insurance Overhauled

NATIONWIDE Insurance has completely overhauled and streamlined its life insurance portfolio as the first step in a program to give new emphasis to personal lines insurance, District Sales Manager Don Wissner said yesterday.

In the past the four-member group has concentrated mainly on its property lines, and currently stands second in the United States among mutual insurers in number of cars insured.

Dean Jeffers, vice president, said the new portfolio includes a full range of life insurance policies which are set in a rate structure that he claimed "establishes Nationwide as a pace-setter in the industry. We're now among the leaders in cash values and protection rendered per dollar spent."

Among changes in the company's rating schedule are lower rates for women and a quantity discount plan. The latter provides a $2 premium discount for each $1,000 of insurance purchased above $4,000.

Living Fence Techniques

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

WHAT ABOUT LIVING FENCES? — A few years ago everyone was crazy about planting living fences as a friendly barrier and for keeping animals off the property. Multiflora rose was selected because it was "Horse high, bull strong and goat tight" in allusion to its ability to keep out animals.

City gardeners who planted the multiflora rose found that the plant is variable in form and vigor. Some were upright, some spreading, and some were trailing. Some were thornless and some had thorns. They found that the plant needs plenty of room for growth — at least 8 to 10 feet in width and height.

If you're considering ways to save on your fencing bill, and have multiflora rose in mind as a hedge make sure this is the type of fence you want because many of our readers who have planted it have been disappointed with their hedge.

Upright Habit

This brings up the question of much publicized "Red Robin" Living fence. The Red Robin, while not a multiflora, has an upright habit of growth, is thorny and has scarlet semi-double flowers growing in clusters. While not a new rose (introduced in France in 1825) it is relatively new on the American scene and is classed as one of the ever-blooming Hybrid Chinas.

I have talked to some gardeners who have planted the Red Robin and most of them are satisfied with the claims made for it. Do any readers of this department have experiences with the Red Robin or any other living fence rose they'd like to tell us about? Please feel free to tell us so we can pass this information along to our friends.

What does "heeling-in" mean? It simply means a temporary planting of a tree or a shrub. For example, if you buy a shrub from a nursery but cannot plant it immediately, you dig a small trench in the ground, insert the roots and pack soil around the roots until you're ready to do the actual planting.

Tip

A reader writes: "I'm convinced that our tap water is not good for house plants. Since I started using rain water or melted snow, my house plants have perked up and have deeper, richer colors, more body and more life to them. I think

Question BoxQUESTION OF THE WEEK

N.R. of Stroudsburg: "I wish you'd tell me if house plants need feeding during the winter months. One book I have says the plants are resting and need no feeding. Yet, if I don't feed, the leaves turn yellow. Also, are coffee or tea leaves, or castor oil helpful for plants?"

Although some plants do rest during the winter months, they still need a monthly feeding because they are making growth. A liquid feeding, one with balanced amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, once a month will supply the right amount of nutrients for house plants.

As for coffee, tea and castor oil in your house plants, they do add a tiny amount of plant nutrients, the main benefit coming from the organic matter of the leaves. Since liquid plant foods are so economical and inexpensive, they are within the reach of every home owner and should be used.

One pound of a liquid plant food with a formula of 23% N-21% P and 17% K will make almost a half barrel of plant food at a cost of a little over $1.00, so why bother with "would-be" plant foods such as castor oil (which isn't much less than the far superior commercial preparations).

One Advantage

One advantage of using the liquid plant foods over granulated chemical mixes is that you can control the amounts much better, and there is less danger of giving the roots the hot-foot treatment. If you do use a chemical mixture such as 5-10-5, do not add the dry chemicals to the soil. Add one teaspoonful to a quart of water, and apply to your pot plants once a month. It's much better to feed lightly once a month than to apply a heavy dose at any one time.

Walter Introduces GSA Site Bill

REP. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), has introduced a bill that would authorize the General Services Administration to build a new federal office building in Philadelphia.

The bill does not specify the cost or location for the proposed structure.

Walter's office said GSA takes the position that enlarging the city's present federal building would not be feasible because of the cost involved.

Walter also introduced a bill to provide some $389 million in federal aid for depressed areas and a measure to add six new judgeships to U.S. District Courts in Pennsylvania—three in the Eastern District, two in the West and one temporary judge in the Middle District. One Circuit Court of Appeals judge also would be added.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) also introduced a depressed areas bill similar to Walters,

Another bill authorizing a $100 a month pension for World War I veterans also was introduced by Morgan as well as one to expand Fort Necessity Park, near Uniontown, Pa. Morgan said the latter bill would authorize the government to accept a gift of 300 acres of land at the site from Pennsylvania and permit acquisition of additional land by the government.

Morgan also introduced bills to lower the age for receiving Social Security benefits from 65 to 60 years of age, to extend coverage of the mine safety bill to all mines—it is now limited to those employing 15 or more miners—and to set up a national fuel policy bill setting quotas on the importation of oil.

Rep. Elmer J. Holland, (D-Pa.), meanwhile reintroduced a bill to provide medical care for the aged in connection with the social security program.

Philadelphian Gets Court Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Thomas P. McGarrity was named prothonotary for the eastern and middle districts of the State Supreme Court Wednesday.

McGarrity, a lawyer, has been elected prothonotary for eight years. He succeeds Charles H. McKibben, who died last fall. McKibben held the office since 1963. Serving both the Supreme and Superior courts.

The combined salary is $18,500 a year. Whether McGarrity will be named also by the Superior Court, however, is yet to be determined.

The Superior Court reportedly favors the appointment of Blair Gunther of Pittsburgh who was defeated by Judge Gerald Flood for reelection to the court last November.

Rails Bench Brings Joy To Girl, 14

AN OLD railroad station bench, once the most cherished bit of furniture for haggard railroad travelers, has brought joy and a dream come true for a young Gouldsboro girl.

The youngster acquired a sentimental attachment for the bench as she waited weekend after weekend for her father to arrive home from his work.

So 14-year-old Lillias Gilroy wrote to Perry M. Shoemaker, vice chairman of the board of Erie-Lackawanna Railroad, offering to buy the bench outside the Gouldsboro station.

"I have saved three dollars toward its purchase," the Moscow High School freshman told the railroad official.

Miss Gilroy lives in Gouldsboro with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Gilroy and younger sister Kathleen.

She acquired the sentimental attachment as she, her mother and sister waited for her father to return home each Friday evening on a DL&W train.

Worthington Official

Her father, Leo, an executive with the Worthington Corp., at Harrison, N.J., travels during the week and returns home every weekend. Miss Gilroy sat patiently on the bench many a night in anticipation of the train's toot as it rounded the bend. The bench was part of the waiting, the anxious moments that were to come.

In her letter to Shoemaker, Miss Gilroy said she noticed the station is for sale or lease. "You see," he said, "the railroad passenger business—once a hallmark of our industry—is diminishing every year and the facilities we furnished and were so proud of are being used less and less."

"Since this is true at Gouldsboro, I would like you to have the bench as a gift, from one railroader to the granddaughter of another railroader. I hope you will enjoy it and it will be as useful to you as it once was to us," he stated.

Miss Gilroy's maternal grandfather, J. G. Hallstone, retired from the D&H railroad as a locomotive engineer in 1956.

Dear Abby

White Glove Inspection

Dear Abby: I am petrified of my mother-in-law. My husband says she likes me fine, but she is "not the demonstrative type. She is always saying nice things about her own daughter, but when it comes to me, a compliment sticks in her throat.

I shake like a leaf when I see her coming because her visits are like "inspection tours." She doesn't criticize me but I can tell the way she looks around that she is disgusted. Although I try hard, I am not a very good housekeeper, but with two babies 13 months apart and no help, it's not easy.

How can I get over this awful feeling of inferiority where she is concerned? I feel equal to everyone else but her.

SAD DAUGHTER-IN-LAW
Dear Daughter-in-law: Do your best and quit worrying about what your mother-in-law may or may not be thinking. If you are caught with the beds unmade, dishes in the sink and a pile of clothes to be ironed — and you catch her "looking disgusted," ask her to give you a hand. Most mothers-in-law are easiest to get along with and least critical when they are invited to pitch in.

Castro 'Buddies'
Disturb U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A demonstration by supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro erupted in the U.N. Security Council late Wednesday as the United States accused the Cuban leader of working with the Communists to overthrow Latin American governments.

It was the second outburst during the day. The 11-nation council was recessed briefly during its morning session when anti-Castro demonstrators disrupted the debate by shouts from the public gallery.

Martin Reports Army Contract

BALTIMORE (AP) — Martin Co. reported receipt of a $138,489,470 Army contract for continued development of the Pershing ballistic missile system for which it is the prime contractor. Of the total award almost $77 million was in new money. The remainder had been previously awarded.

band, who is an executive with a large oil company, purchased a rather expensive gift for his private secretary. I found out about it when I intercepted the bill.

When I confronted him with it, he told me he had given the gift to his secretary as a "prize."

The company offers "prizes" occasionally to employees, but they are paid for out of company funds. Why should my husband have to give his secretary a "personal" prize?

"PRIZE FOOL (?)"

Dear Zelda: First, try love and kisses. If that doesn't work, ask him to buy the book, "How To Prepare Your Wife To Be A Widow." It works every time.

Dear Abby: Just because my mother had a miserable childhood she is making sure I have a worse one. She won't let me go in cars with boys. She won't let me use eye makeup or wear my hair the way I want to. All my friends have these privileges. I am almost 13 years old and am being treated like I was 4. Do you think she is being fair?

TREATED LIKE 4

Dear Trusted: Every child has to abide by the rules of his (or her) house. Your mother is trying to give you a better childhood than she had and until you are mature enough to appreciate it you are not old enough for any of the privileges you demand.

Confidential to Shirley: Horse sense is what keeps a woman from becoming a nag.

Dear Abby: Just because my mother had a miserable childhood she is making sure I have a worse one. She won't let me go in cars with boys. She won't let me use eye makeup or wear my hair the way I want to. All my friends have these privileges. I am almost 13 years old and am being treated like I was 4. Do you think she is being fair?

TREATED LIKE 4

Dear Trusted: Every child has to abide by the rules of his (or her) house. Your mother is trying to give you a better childhood than she had and until you are mature enough to appreciate it you are not old enough for any of the privileges you demand.

Just Between Us —

--By Bobby Westbrook

Not one but three women asked me suspiciously yesterday: "How did you know I had hot dogs for supper last night?" while a fourth confessed a little sheepishly that she had yelled at the kids but she didn't think it was loud enough to be heard outside.

Honestly, I haven't been sniffing the exhaust fan from your kitchens or listening at keyholes; it's just that there are certain common denominators about life in Monroe County. We're all far more alike than we are different—far more alike, even, than we like to think, probably.

To ourselves we are unique: nobody suffers more from the cold, from the virus, from weariness. Nobody else is quite so pushed for time. And when we are gay, certainly nobody else would go trucking around the room after the vacuum cleaner when the radio switches to an irresistible rhythm.

Oh, wouldn't they? There isn't a silly, careless, stupid or peculiar thing I've ever confessed to that somebody else hasn't admitted to the same folly. Which is comforting. What is disturbing is that I've never had an idea, no matter how original, important, or clever it seemed at the time, that somebody hasn't thought of it first and expressed it better.

Still, it does take the edge off the lowness that every person feels at some time or other—even in the midst of a crowd—to know that other women with their hair still up in curlers and slacks pulled on over their pajamas are driving a member of their family to work by the dawn's cruel light.

That on the nights you can't sleep, others, all over town, are finding it difficult to find a place on which they can rest their mind without beginning again the vague and formless, but distressing, worry about everything and everybody.

As a common denominator, I'm probably the most common of anybody.

Gregory Gets Post With East Pennsylvania Clinic

Jack Gregory

JACK Gregory, East Stroudsburg State College football coach, has been named assistant director of the Eastern Pennsylvania Coaches' Clinic.

M. Stiles Baldwin, Clinic Director, named Gregory Wednesday. Gregory had previously served on the executive committee of the football and basketball clinic.

In addition to Baldwin and Gregory, Joe Whalen of radio station WVPO; Curt Prins, Daily Record Sports Editor; Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg High football coach and T. Manning Curtis, Stroud Union High selected for the staff later.

M. Stiles Baldwin

School athletic director, will serve on the executive committee.

At ESSO

The instructor roster of this year's clinic, which will be held June 20, 21 and 22 at East Stroudsburg State College, has been partially completed.

Wayne Hardin, Naval Academy football coach and Jerry Burns, new head football coach at Iowa have been named to the staff, along with Phil Marmon, coach of Ridley Twp. High School (Pa.). Two more college football coaches and a college basketball coach will be selected for the staff later.

Sugar Ray, Fullmer Title Fight Near

NEW YORK (AP) — A fourth Gene Fullmer-Sugar Ray Robinson middleweight title fight is 95 per cent settled, said promoter Norman Rothschild Wednesday.

"I'm confident we'll be able to come to terms with Robinson soon," Rothschild said after conferring with Sugar Ray and his advisor, George Gainford.

On Television

Rothschild said Feb. 25 is the target date for the television fight. Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Miami, Chicago and Salt Lake City are the possible sites, in that order.

"Fullmer has agreed to terms," said Rothschild.

Rothschild said Robinson agreed to accept 25 per cent of the gate receipts but wanted $30,000 of the $150,000 TV money.

"I offered him 20 per cent of the TV and upped it to 25 per cent today," he said.

Rothschild said Fullmer has agreed to 40 per cent of the gate and the TV receipts.

4 Selected For '840' Pin Event

JIM SCHOCHE, Cresco; Don Hartman, and Frank Laise, East Stroudsburg and Boyd Chapman, Stroudsburg, meet Sunday in the "840 Classic" bowling tournament.

Schoch led the qualifiers with a 679 match. He was followed by Hartman, 634, Laise, 633 and Chapman, 631.

The Classic is held at 2 p.m. Colonial Lanes and broadcast over WVPO.

Six Spots Left

There are still six semi-final spots to be filled. Jim Harmon, Sr., Dr. Gail Fegley, Okay Stuckey and Max Beaver, qualified for the first semi-final spot, while Henry Baustein, Sam Strunk, Jim Harmon, Jr. and Ralph Van Why will appear on the second match. Bob Schultz, and Angelo DeSanto earned the first two positions on the third round.

The four winners of the semi-final rounds will bowl nine games over a three week period to decide the champion.

There were seven fatalities among 720,000 participants, a rate of .97 deaths for every 100,000, the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations said. The average for the last 13 years is 1.32.

Rosters Announced For New Professional Bowling League

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Rosters of the National Bowling League, an organization spanning 12 cities, were announced Wednesday by Commissioner Dick Charles.

Included among the stars of the lanes already signed are such men as Ed Lubanski, Joe Joseph, Bob Strampe, Earl Johnson, Bobby Chase and Jimmy St. John, all ranking among the top 10 of bowlers.

Carter Unsigned

Don Carter, the biggest name in the game, hasn't been signed but is on the Fort Worth, Tex., reserve list, meaning he will have to play with that club or none if he does agree to terms.

The league will start its first season Oct. 13, and run six months with a 132-match schedule. Each club plays each other club 12 times.

In the league are Kansas City, Detroit, Omaha, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas, Los Angeles, Fort Worth, San Antonio, New York, Miami, Birmingham and Fresno.

Throw Away Tennis Togs On Sale

LONDON (AP) — There's something new in tennis wear for the girls with the good forehand and the gold silken backsides.

It's a dress made of paper. You wear it once or twice and throw it away.

The throw-away gimmick could be evidence of cooperation by designer Teddy Tinling. In recent year, Wimbledon officials wanted to throw out his creations, which included the gold panties and frilly lace things.

Have Showing

But the official's probably will have to give in to the paper dress, too, at this year's All-England Lawn Tennis Championships at Wimbledon. Several gal tennis stars, including Britain's Christine Truman, were present when the paper creation startled a fashion show audience Tuesday.

The dress, made of paper imported from the United States and lined with nylon, sells for $2.10. Tinling hopes to get the price down to 70 cents when the special paper process is developed here.

Prior to the bowl games, Warmath was a shoo-in for the "Coach of the Year" award given by the American Coaches Assn. but it may be a different story now. The voting will be held next week in Pittsburgh, when the coaches hold their convention.

Jim Owens will poll a great many votes from the far west and Dan Devine will get his share of support from the South and Southwest.

Bowl Coaches Booked For Clinics

OF THE 10 COACHES in the major bowl games over the weekend, seven of them will be instructors at the "Coach of the Year" football clinics being handled by Marty Baldwin of Stroudsburg.

The eight clinics, held coast to coast, start next month and continue through April. Each clinic will run for two days.

Ray Graves, the coach of the Gator Bowl winner, Florida; Murray Warmath, Minnesota; Jim Owens, Washington; Bill Murray, Duke; Frank Broyles, Arkansas; Dan Devine, Missouri and Wayne Hardin, Navy. And another bowl team coach, Paul Bryant of Alabama is also lined-up for the clinic. Alabama tied Texas 3-3 in the Bluebonnet game.

Warmath Still Sentimental Choice

But many coaches still feel that it should go to Warmath, especially since he received so much abuse for finishing last in the Big 10 a year ago.

When the coaches of the Pennsylvania State College Conference football teams voted for the league's all-star team, they placed Dick Wolslayer of East Stroudsburg on the first team and Lou Caparro of West Chester on the second. Both are centers.

The national intercollegiate Athletic Assn. put Caparro before Wolslayer on its All-America team and the Associated Press did the same thing in picking the All-State team. So a player that is not rated the best center in the conference by the coaches is picked as the best center in the state and top small college center in the country. Make sense?

The 33-year-old ex-welterweight and middleweight champion didn't say flatly he would quit if he lost to the aggressive Mexican. Baldino is a 7-5 favorite.

"Saturday night will determine whether I go on further," said Carmen in reply to a question at a press luncheon.

He wouldn't go beyond that statement. The battle-scared scrapper did admit that his wife and many of his friends have advised him to call it a career. His reflexes in the ring have slowed considerably.

And the current vogue is for Catholic schools to drop football. Marquette and Scranton dropped the sport this year and College of Pacific is returning to stay-at-home games. Georgetown, started the trend several years back and Fordham, St. Mary's and several other Catholic schools followed. What's the future hold for Notre Dame?

East Stroudsburg State College's basketball team ranks seventh in the country among small colleges in field goal accuracy with a .487 per cent in six games.

And Mississippi College leads the small colleges in scoring, averaging 115.5 points a game in four games. The strange part is that Mississippi has won only two of the games.

Sam Kinder, Glen Brook Country Club golf professional and his wife Helen leave for Florida this week. They will stay in Hollywood, San plans to play in the First Flight Golf Tournament at Dunedin. The tournament is the club pros' championship.

Villanova May Be Next To Drop Football

Look for Villanova to be the next college to drop football. The Wildcats have been losing money steadily but still play a big-time schedule that requires a great deal of money to finance.

Losers who still have the respect of the experts, topped by once-beaten Tennessee State, dominate the Associated Press' first weekly small college basketball rankings.

Tennessee State, riding an 11-game streak after a season-opening loss, edged unbeaten Hofstra (9-0) for the No. 1 position in the balloting announced Wednesday. The Tigers drew three first place votes and had a 57-33 margin over Hofstra in total points in the voting.

Rothschild said Feb. 25 is the target date for the television fight. Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Miami, Chicago and Salt Lake City are the possible sites, in that order.

The Daily InvestorPrice Differential

By William A. Doyle
U.S. & Foreign Securities
and Madison Fund are both closed-end investment companies. Both have good records and hold good securities. However, in relation to net asset value, U.S. & Foreign Securities shares can be purchased at a much lower price than Madison Fund shares. Why?

really big in comparison to some others. This investment company does have a good long-term record. But it has big investments in oil stocks. Oil stocks haven't been too popular over the past couple of years. This has hurt both the asset value and the market price of U.S. & Foreign savings bonds in 1941. The bonds reached their first maturity in 1951. At that time, the government "extended" the bonds so that they would accumulate interest for an additional 10 years. Do you know if they will be extended again?

A. Yes, they will. The Treasury Department has announced that the interest period will be extended on those early bonds now approaching their "second maturity." The interest that will be paid on E bonds more than 20 years old has not been announced yet. But an announcement is expected shortly.

Its tangled affairs are now in the hands of court-appointed trustees, who are trying to get things unscrambled. The company is still "in business" producing automotive parts and accessories. But it's a losing proposition.

You can sell this stock in the over-the-counter market. It is currently trading at from 50 to 75 cents a share.
